

Aiken Standard — May 2011

The celebrity waiters stationed at various restaurants around Aiken Monday had one overarching strategy: raise as much money as possible.

They employed jokes, warm smiles, songs and, at The Willcox, a variety of activities from a silent auction to casino games, all in an effort to raise money for Children's Place during the agency's biggest and certainly most well-known fundraiser.

Read more ...