Aiken Standard — September 2012

John Vaughn's music career has taken him all over the world. But, for now, he's settling back in to his native Aiken. Vaughn will be in Aiken through the winter season and is playing piano at the Willcox Inn each Friday night. It's a venue that holds many fond memories for him.

Read more ...