

Bill Bonner's Instablog — March 2013

"Are you new to Aiken," said an attractive 70-something woman with a soft cotton accent named Sissy. We were coming out of the Willcox Hotel. She spotted us as visitors and offered help. She was wearing a floppy hat. She admired our hats. We admired hers. Later, we learned that she is known locally as the "hat lady."

Read more ...