

Bella Magazine — August 2013

The Willcox roared through the same Jazz Age that inspired lavish parties in the 1920s and 30s. The Hitchcocks, Vanderbilts, Whitneys, Harrimans and many more wealthy families maintained huge houses on Long Island, Manhattan and Newport, R.I., where they danced the years away. As the weather turned cooler, they followed their horses to their 'cottages' in Aiken for the Winter.

Read more ...